

Dear (Prospects Name),

Thanks for taking just a few minutes to read through this letter so I might update you on some new and exciting news with me.

For quite a while, I have been looking for a way to stay home, and earn an income from home in my own business. I recently found something that is a great fit for me, and I wanted to share some details with you, in case you might know of anyone who fits my business or customer profile.

I am an independent distributor for Scent-Sations, home of the Mia Bella Gourmet Candle and other products. We offer a premium line of Soy/Veggie wax candles, which offer a clean burning alternative to regular candles. In others words, no black stuff on jars and walls and no toxins burning in the home.

You know a lot of people and I am looking for people who -

Love burning quality, scented candles
Love hosting or attending home parties
Know kids or others involved in sports or any type of fundraising
Would love to also work from home

I have enclosed a few scent samples so you can check out the great smell, along with a brochure and my business cards. I would love to schedule a time to stop by and show you this product line so you can see it firsthand.

(Prospects Name), thanks for taking the time to read through this and the brochure. Let me know if you think of anyone who fits my criteria above. More details are on my website at -

Enjoy the scents and I'll talk to you soon.

EXPECT Success!
